An intrepid group of walkers followed the Herefordshire Way from Putley to the Malthouse this morning, where I met them for the first Ledbury Big Breakfast day...

Two actually ran here from Aylton! In the snow!! Mad!!!
But they'd certainly earned their breakfast...

Somewhat belittles my effort on a bike from the outskirts of Ledbury (which it won't be for much longer if Gladman gets its way)....

Ledbury's annual Big Breakfast event will resume tomorrow (2nd February) and on Sunday.
