

Welcome to Ledbury?

Written by A. Cyclist

Monday, 16 July 2018 15:46 - Last Updated Monday, 16 July 2018 18:13

A visitor from Northern Ireland came up to me when I was by the Market House this morning, asking me if I had seen the traffic warden. She said she had returned to her car that was parked in a disabled slot near Boots to find she'd received a parking ticket, despite displaying a valid disabled parking badge. I could only apologise on behalf of Herefordshire Council - and say she was unlucky since these wardens don't often visit our streets.

Another disgruntled visitor who probably won't return to Ledbury. HC - take note!