Herefordshire Council's parks and countryside service has found a new home for 30-year-old Georgina the goose, a resident of Hereford's Castle Pool pond.

The parks and countryside service was alerted by a member of the public who noticed Georgina, an Ebdon X Brecon Buff goose who cannot fly because she has angel wings, was finding it difficult to get out of the pond.

RSPCA officers were called to capture Georgina and she was then taken to a vets and found to be generally well but suffering from arthritis which was affecting her mobility.
