

Ledbury Spring Festival video

Written by John Eager

Monday, 04 May 2009 19:06 - Last Updated Tuesday, 12 May 2009 10:09

From Redmarley rhubard to White Leaf Oak faeries: The English Festival has morphed into the Ledbury Spring Festival; the celebration of St. George replaced by devotion to Dionysus and Silenus; line dancers lost to bellowing town criers and punk pub buskers, while the 'inner sanctum' indulged itself in the practice of limited exclusivity.