In 1979 the Members reminded us about corporate tax dodges and monetary international crime. Our modern Elizabethan parliaments under Thatcher, Blair and the coalition have done nothing about this and in doing so have enabled and amplified the current economic and environmental crisis. As the people live in austerity and recession across the world, the corporations are sitting on multiple billions of pounds and dollars untaxed in offshore bank accounts.

Google, Starbucks, Amazon, BP, Apple, Tesco, Barclays and the rest of yous - you are to the 2010s, what the unions were to the 1970s.
