

One of these you'll wake up and realise we're on the same side

Written by Michael Lever

Monday, 12 November 2012 10:16 - Last Updated Monday, 12 November 2012 11:07

"Where you also go badly wrong is in the implied assumption that this petition played a significant role in the Sainsbury's application being turned down." There is nothing in my comment that implies anything. Making fun of others or criticising others harshly is a form of bullying. Public opinion is only one issue in council planning votes and a minor one at that." If you're right then the public would do well to not waste its time over the Town Plan then! "Any public committee man who tries to pack the moral cards in the interest of his own notions is guilty of corruption and impertinence." - George Bernard Shaw