

End the Big Six Energy Fix

Written by Gavin Hayes

Tuesday, 14 February 2012 12:00 - Last Updated Thursday, 23 February 2012 16:56

We need your help to turn up the heat on the energy companies.

As part of the campaign on Saturday The Independent revealed on its front page that the big six energy firms are due to make a £15bn windfall. Today however the true cost of energy profiteering really hit home, when it was revealed that deaths from hypothermia have doubled in the last five years.

This is why we need you to spread the word about our campaign:

<http://action.compassonline.org.uk/big6share>

Crucially with over 10,000 people signed up we can send a very loud message to the Big 6 and the Government that enough is enough - it's time to end the energy fix.

Remember the energy fat cats want you to do absolutely nothing, so they can cash in their windfall bonuses and carry on as if it's business as usual, whilst millions suffer in the cold. But you have the power stop this.

Don't let the big six get away with it any longer by telling everyone that you know to sign the petition.

Let's work together to End the Big Six Energy Fix and try to ensure that next winter nobody has to make the stark choice between heating or eating.