The Tree Frogs began their three day mini tour at the Feathers Hotel beer festival yesterday evening (Friday 25th August). Here the Tree Frogs can be seen performing 'A Spoonful'.

The Tree Frogs are Mark Stevenson on vocals, congas, darabouka, bodhran and whistle; Mike Ruddick on guitar and vocals; Steve Crofts on guitar, banjo and vocals and Mike Hooper on bass and mandolin.

The Tree Frogs began back in 1998 going through several incarnations, with the present line-up together since 2003. They play an eclectic set from folk to blues via Beefheart and Johnny Cash and have developed a good live reputation especially in the outer reaches of Herefordshire and the borders.

Today they play at The Crown in Dilwyn at 6.30pm before playing at the West Fest at the West Malvern Playing Field tomorrow at about 3.15pm. They'll be lining up with 19 other bands in the beer tent.

I would like to thank The Feathers and the Tree Frogs for the opportunity to video this gig.
