

Ledbury and District Civic Society on BBC Radio

Written by Michael Lever

Wednesday, 30 March 2011 10:37 - Last Updated Friday, 08 April 2011 21:14

A while back, the Ledbury and District Society Trust was contacted by the weekend producer on BBC Hereford and Worcester radio about a regular feature on Saturday breakfast programme when, just after 08:00, someone with a knowledge of local history would come into the studio and chat to the presenter in a live broadcast.

The producer has gathered a group of people from different organisations in Herefordshire and Worcestershire and the idea is to call upon the individual every 6-8 weeks or so. No payment is offered, but there is the opportunity for free publicity.

The person representing the Ledbury and District Society Trust is Dr Sylvia Pinches and she will be on the breakfast show on Saturday 9 April.

BBC Hereford and Worcester is on 104FM and 94.7FM